School Calendar Stays With Early School Year Opening

By Karen L. Day

After receiving a letter of protest from the Andover Education Association and a number of telephone calls from parents, the School Committee discussed the possibility of reconsidering the school calendar, approved at the committee's last regular meeting, but decided that it would stand as is.

Edward Bennett, AEA President, wrote the committee to express the association's disappointment in the committee's vote to begin the school year before Labor Day—a highly unusual practice.

According to Bennett, over half of the teachers polled preferred the traditional calendar for educational reasons. While some students will attend school from the scheduled opening day of September 2, many will still be away on family summer vacations and will not return until Labor Day—making their first day of attendance September 8. The teachers feel that this would create disruption in the educational process.

In the letter, the association commented that it seemed "incongruous" that the committee has asked for teacher input into the direction of the system, but ignored "the majority of the teachers' wishes regarding the calendar."

At Tuesday's work session of the School Committee, Chairman Susan Poore responded to that comment, noting the fact that she voted against the pre-Labor Day calendar.

"We're not going to just vote the way (a group) wants....They spoke and, in fact, were heard. When we say we want input, we mean it. but if one group out of twelve says we didn't listen because we didn't vote their way...."

Poore then told committee members that if there was no great desire to reconsider, the pre-Labor Day calendar would stand as voted—three to two, with Poore and Committeeman David Birnbach opposed.

Although committee member Margo Tilghman felt that they "were not given good options," she thought it "better to get an early start on the year rather than go to June 30, if we use all our snow days."

Before the meeting, Committeeman Donald Robb had cited contractual issues as having had influence on the vote. "If we don't have the last day of school by June 30, it's contractually the last day that we have teachers," he said, adding that that would occur only if all five snow days allotted were used.

Even if that were not a concern, going

Torn Down

Passersby on North Main Street Monday, whether on foot or in cars, paused to watch the home of the Smeltzer family, at 120-122 North Main St., be torn down, piece by piece. A three-man crew completed the demolition of the home that was gutted by fire just before Christmas in less than one full day. But in the next month or so, the Smeltzers expect that their new modular home will be placed on the site and they will finally be able to return to a normal living situation.

Richards Seminar Speaker

Dennis Richards, director of the Collaborative School Project for the Andover/Lawrence Public Schools, will speak at the Lawrence Savings Bank, 342 North Main St., Andover, on Tuesday, May 19, at 7:30 p.m.

The public is welcome to this year's final education seminar sponsored by the League of Women Voters of Andover; the aim is to keep residents informed about public education in Andover.

The LWV education committee invites the public to hear Richards discuss the progress of the feasibility study for the proposed collaborative school and to bring their questions and concerns to the open forum afterwards.

"We originally planned this meeting for early fall as the first of next year's education seminar series," said Barbara Worcester, LWV education committee chairman. "But it seems appropriate for people to find out now what the collaborative project is about and what it's not about. It's not about the possibility of Andover and Lawrence sharing a magnet school which typically is a very specialized type of school, but a collaborative school offering a wide range of subjects."

No such collaborative school exists in the state now, she noted. "We thought people would be interested in hearing about the conceptual framework and some of the ideas from the director of the feasibility study now, instead of just rumors and preconceptions until next fall."

One idea that has emerged from the study, according to Richards, is a research and development center for curriculum at the proposed collaborative school and a professional learning center for teachers and administrators of both communities. Richards said that four themes have evolved so far from the feasibility study:

1. The collarborative idea: this concerns collaboration between the Andover and Lawrence school systems less than it concerns helping parents and others in both communities find ways to participate with administrators and teachers in attaining educational goals;

2. Strong curriculum: emphasis on fine and performing arts, language studies, problem solving, etc.

3. Professionalism: This is an overall theme, but would be particularized in the research and development center for curriculum and the professonal learning center for Andover and Lawrence teachers and administrators;

4. Community service.

Worcester points out that since one of the themes of the collaborative school study calls for input from community members, the League of Women Voters hopes that Andover parents and other community members can attend the meeting and bring their questions and ideas.

To Walk Holt Hill

The Andover Committee of the Appalachian Mountain Club will conduct a walk through the Hole Hill area of Harold Parker Reservation in Andover on Saturday, May 9.

The walk will cover about two miles and should take about an hour to complete. The outing is free, but participants are asked to register with Jim Dezieck, the walk leader, by Friday, May 8.

The group will meet in the parking lot outside the reservation entrance at the end of Prospect Road at 10 a.m.

In Choir

Debra Bartle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Bartle, Talbot Road, Andover, is a member of the Allegheny College Choir that toured seven eastern cities in March. The choir, directed by Ward Jamison, consists of 65 singers, with only three members pursuing music as a major.

Bartle, a senior, is majoring in history and English.

Allegheny is a small, selective liberal arts college in northwestern Pennsylvania.

Historians In Annual Session

By Virginia Lopez Begg

The Andover Historical Society held its 76th annual meeting on its headquarters, the Amos Blanchard house on Main Street, on April 23.

After reports by President Karen Herman, Treasurer Fred Fitzgerald, Director/Curator Clark Pearce and Curator of Education Barbara Thibault, certificates of appreciation were presented to retiring board members Margery Clark, John Givens and Bernice Haggerty. Special thanks were given to Marilyn Burns who is retiring from the board ex officio.

Norma Gammon's gallery talk and Gail Ralston's dramatic presentation of "The Village of St. Siegbert" followed. The latter is a fairy tale written by Addison LeBoutillier, Andover artist and craftsman whose work is the subject of the society's current exhibit. The exhibit includes St. Siegbert, a model medieval village for which the fairy tale was written.

Since its founding in 1911, the Andover Historical Society has been an important asset to the Merrimack Valley through its consistent efforts to preserve, promote and interpret the history of Andover. A variety of programs and projects have been established over the past 75 years to provide area residents with cultural services.

The Andover Historical Society is fortunate in its fine collections and handsome historic house and barn so conveniently located in the center of the community. Energetic professional leadership has recently helped to accomplish much, but the society's chief strength lies in its members and volunteers who have shown their ability to take on the roles of historians, curators, showmen and teachers and upon whome the burden of carrying out these projects falls. Jobs are always available for interested volunteers. The enthusiasm and intelligence of this group insures an informative and entertaining experience for future visitors to the society.

Officers and members of the board of directors of the Andover Historical Society for 1987-88 are: Karen Herman, president; Norma Gammon, first vice president; Gratia Mahony, second vice president; Frederick Fitzgerald, treasurer; Jean Sand, assistant treasurer; Andrew Caffrey, Jr., corresponding secretary; Mel Jurgen, recording secretary; James Batchelder, Randall Hanson, Susan Harris, Robert A. Henderson, Susan O'Leary, Margaret Roberts, Patricia Snedeker, Charles Wright, board of directors.

The Andover Historical Society, accredited by the American Association of Museums, is a nonprofit, educational institution open to members and the public. For information on open house, exhibitions, tours, special events and membership, call the society office between 9 a.m. and 5 p.m. Monday through Friday.

Tsongas Merrimack Speaker; Coburn To Receive Degree

Paul Tsongas

Former United States Senator Paul Tsongas will give the principal address at Merrimack College's 37th Commencement ceremonies on May 17 in the Volpe Complex on the North Andover campus.

Rev. John E. Deegan, O.S.A., president of Merrimack, will award honorary degrees to Tsongas, Andover author and journalist Andrew Coburn and area businessman Charles T. Matses.

The annual Baccalaureate Mass will be celebrated at 3:30 p.m. on Saturday, May 16. Fr. Deegan will be the principal celebrant and Rev. P. Gerard Shaw, O.S.A., director of campus ministry, will be the homilist. The Mass will be celebrated on the college common, weather permitting.

Tsongas, a native of Lowell, is a graduate of Dartmouth College and the Yale Law School. He is the author of "The Road from Here: Liberalism and the Realities of the 1980s," published in 1981, and "Heading Home," published in 1984, his account of the events and private anguish that culminated in his decision not to seek reelection to the Senate.

A partner in the Boston law firm of Foley, Hoag and Elliot, Tsongas serves on the boards of the University of Lowell and Yale and the corporate boards of the Shawmut Corporation, Wang Laboratories, Boston Edison, M/A-COM Inc., and Thermo Analytical Inc.

He and his wife, Micola, are the parents of three daughters, Ashley, Katina and Molly.

Coburn is the author of seven novels, most of them rooted in the Boston and Lawrence areas. His latest novel, "Love Nest," released last month by Macmillan, is a story of power and money in Andover. He is at work on his eighth novel, "Goldilocks" which is set in Lawrence.

His novels have been translated into seven foreign languages, including Japanese. Two have been made into movies in France. A Hollywood production company has purchased the movie rights to his novel "Sweetheart." His second novel, "The Babysitter," was a featured selection of The Book of the Month Club. The New York Times wote, "Natural storytellers are not too common, but Mr. Coburn is one."

Born in Exeter, N.H., Coburn majored in English and philosophy at Suffolk University. He has been a copy editor and book reviewer at the

'Senior' Prom Is Tonight

The Andover Council on Aging will host its second annual "Senior" Prom on Thursday, May 7, at the Andover Country Club with music by the Belaire's and Chet Harnden's One Man Band and support from the Greater Lawrence Musians Union Local 372. Black tie is optional for this evening of dining, live music, dancing and good friends.

May is Older Americans Month and without the assistance of David Solomont from Academy Manor Nursing Home the idea of a prom to help celebrate would never have come true in Andover.

Solomont made two student interns available in 1986 to assist with planning and the implementation of the first Andover "Senior" Prom. Working under the direction of Andover's coordinator of Elder Affairs, Dorothy M. Winn, the interns solicited assistance of local business people who donated limousines, flowers, tuxedos and monetary support. Participants enjoy all the pomp and circumstance of a regular prom, including selection of a king and queen with prom photos for all. Nursing home staff, senior center, Council on Aging Staff and community members volunteered their time to make the first prom a huge success.

Andover has more than 4,500 residents age 60 and older. The Senior Prom is only one example of interaction between Academy Manor Nursing Home and the Andover Council on Aging.

The 1987 "Senior" Prom committee is: Doreen Correnti, chairman, Sandra Pruneau, Michele Conte, Diana Tate, Helen Watkinson, Mary Wesson and, of course, Dorothy Winn.

The Andover Council on Aging members are Bernard Bresnahan, Robert P. Kenney, William Lane, Joan Pearson, Thomas F. Powers, chairman, Don P. Scott, clerk, Patricia Sheehan, Helen Watkinson, Doreen Correnti, Dorothy M. Winn, director.

The first polo game in America was played indoors at Dickel's Riding Academy in New York City in 1876.

The first presidential mansion, No. 1 Cherry St., New York City, was the first U.S. capital.

A Tuneful Education

The Sanborn Elementary School Band performed before the St. Robert's Country Day School last week under the direction of Allan Minkkinen. In addition to entertaining, the band members introduced various musical instruments to the pre-schoolers, and the tuneful tots were allowed to "play" some of them.

Italian Students To Visit

Fifteen Italian students will visit Andoer this summer as part of the American Institute for Foreign Study's Homestay Program. Families are needed to host the students who will arrive in the United States July 27 and depart August 25. The students will attend classes to improve their English and learn more about American culture and will go on field trips around the Boston area, which the hosts are invited to join.

Hosts of an international student on an AIFS Homestay Program are not only expressing a desire for better understanding between cultures, but gaining a valuable learning experience.

All students who participate in this program are screened through the Greenwich, Connecticut, Institute headquarters. They all have a good understanding and basic command of the English language and understand that they are to be "part of the family," not just a guest. They are expected to join in the families activities as well as help out with family duties. The idea is for these students to experience dialy life in the United States and the host family will be experiencing a little bit of Italy as well.

If interested in this cultural exchange, contact Diane Fabiani, AIFS' local coordinator.

The Color Of Money

Five of West Elementary's sixth grade teachers worked together to develop an Andover Business/Industry/Community/Education Collaborative Module. What evolved was a "hands-on" program that would help students understand ecenomics. Once students had grasped basic economic concepts, they proceded to invent a product, produce it and sell it—and make a profit! The students produced colorful tie-dyed bandanas, and with scraps of remaining material (no waste here) also produced bow ties.

BABY TALK

by Jack Resnick

For the first week after delivery make a special effort not to exert yourself unduly. To save energy, plan your activities so that once you are upstairs you remain there for a while. Take short walks; drive your car to do short errands. Since traveling any great distance can be very exhausting, try not to plan any log trips until the baby is close to a month old. Exercise can revitalize you, but you do not want to exhaust your physical resources.

Let the staff at TINY TOTLAND assist and guide you through your purchase of baby furniture. Leading brand names by Simmons, Childcraft, Bassett & Morigeaux. Tel. 1-603-623-6171. Open 9-5:30. A Special Investment Report:

FDIC Insured Savings Banks

Our longterm positive view of savings institution stocks is based on our belief that these companies are net beneficiaries of deregulation (especially mutual-to-stock conversions and interstate banking consolidation), disinflation (and the resulting reliquification of balance sheets) and in selected situations strong regional economies (e.g. the New England and mid-Atlantic regions). We think that these companies should continue to outperform the overall market over the next 12 to 24 months. We anticipate P/E multiple expansion resulting from interstate banking consolidation and above-average earnings growth driven by the incremental leverage of the new capital raised through conversion.

Some of the banks profiled are: Andover Savings Bank, Medford Savings Bank and Lawrence Savings Bank. For a copy of this report which details which companies we like and why please call or mail the coupon.

ENDANGERED SPECIES

Nurses. They're a vital part of our nation's health care system. Yet today, nurses have become an endangered species—casualties of a system that is placing ever-increasing demands on their profession. Staffing shortages and depressed wages are creating extremely difficult working conditions. And despite the excitement generated in the field by technological advances and improvements in patient care, the problems are just too great to ignore. The fact is, many nurses are leaving the profession. And fewer than ever are entering it.

At Bon Secours Hospital, we understand the pressures facing our nurses today. We also value the critical part they play in our health care system. In spite of the problems, nurses are finding ways to provide better patient care than ever before.

So, in honor of National Nurses Day, we'd like to pay a special, heartfelt tribute to our nurses and to nurses everywhere. Thank you for the truly outstanding care you continue to give in spite of all the demands.

We also hope that everyone takes a minute to consider the critical challenges nurses are facing, and the contributions they make to our health and well-being. Your support can go a long way toward getting nurses off the endangered list.

AFS Seeks Host Family For German Youth

Wanted: A caring host family who is willing to provide love, understanding and, of course, food and shelter to an American Field Service foreign student for a school year. This West German boy from Freiburg is 17 years old, intelligent, industrious and athletic. He is a good student and speaks French, Latin and English. His other interests include tennis, fishing, skiing and playing the clarinet. He is fond of animals and is hoping to share his interests with a family in New England.

Reward: A special opportunity to share ideas and widen one's viewpoint. Hosting also provides an enriching educational experience in which a family can improve communication and language skills. Most rewarding is the fun and friendship that promotes international understanding and world peace, something AFS is all about.

For more information, call Marsha Johnson, 27 Summer St., host family chairperson.

'Anything Goes' To Be Staged

Cole Porter's glorious songs are the highlight of "Anything Goes," presented by the Andover High Drama Guild at the Collins Center May 8 and 9 at 8 p.m. The score features "It's Delovely," "Friendship," "I Get a Kick Out of You," "Anything Goes," "Let's Misbehave," "Blow, Gabriel, Blow," "All Through the Night" and "Take me Back to Manhattan."

The entire action takes place on the S.S. American, sailing from New York to England. The characters are: Hope Harcourt, Patricia Squibb; Sir Evelyn, Todd McAllister, Randall Bachne; Mrs. Harcourt, Monica Dugal, Julie Casanave; Elisha Whitney, Neil Fater; Reno Sweeney, Shorey Walker, Becky Penner; Billy Crocker, Chris Workman; Moonface Martin, Ed Pascucci; Bonnie, Amy Cooper, Sarah Perry.

Dancers and singers complete the passenger and crew lists, as well as the "Angels."

Bob Lague of the Andover High School faculty is the director and Becky Arnold Emshwiller of Andover is the choreographer. Holly Shanaman is the stage manager.

Up With People

Although musical talent is needed for each cast, individual selection is based upon a personal interview rather than a musical audition. Maturity, perosnality, motivation, interest in the world around them, ability to communicate and the desire to serve others are among the attributes for which Up With People is looking.

It is the organization's goal that some day young men and women from very nation may have the opportunity to spend a year in this nonsectarian, apolitcal program, so that together they may contribute to a more peaceful world.

Up with People provides its participants with a year-long learning experience that will help them better understand the world, other cultures and themselves and will encourage them to utilize what they have learned when they return to their colleges, jobs and communities.

Students participate in interrelated activities which provide them with an experiential education during their 32,000-mile tour.

An important part of Up With People's educational and cultural exchange is the hospitality provided to the students in each community by local host families. During the average one-year tour, each student will stay with 80-90 families from every walk of life and many cultures.

Host families provide lodging and some meals and an important opportunity for the students to participate in and learn about their lifestyles and the rich cultural diversity of the world. These contributions are vital to the continuation and existence of Up With People.

What does the term "eglomise" mean?
Eglomise is a centuries old technique of painting on the reverse side of glass. Although Architectural detail and lettering are kept uniform by silk screening, the coloring of our bulidings and landscaping is hand painted. As a result, the tones and the shading of each painting vary from rendering to another. And the "eglomise" technique has a distinct look all its own. Incidentally, the name "eglomise" is derived from Jean Baptiste Glomi, an eighteenth century French artist, who is generally given credit for inventing this technique.

Faculty Chamber Recital

Members of the music faculty of Phillips Academy will present a chamber music recital on Friday, May 8, at 7:30 p.m. in the Timken Room, Graves Hall. The public is invited. There is no admission charge.

The concert will include two arias from Bach Cantatas featuring Allen Combs, tenor, William Thomas, cello, and Carolyn Skelton, harpsichord. Mozart's "Duo for Violin and Viola" will be performed by Gerald Itzkoff, violin, and Mimi Bravar, viola, and "Serenade in C for String Trio" by Hungarian composer Ernst von Dohnanyi will be performed by Itzkoff, Bravar and Thomas. Von Dohnanyi was born in Poszony on July 27, 1877, and studied piano and harmony at a young age. He entered the Royal Hungarian Academy of Music in Budapest in 1893 where he concentrated on composition. By the age of 20 he was awarded the king's prize for his "Symphony in F major" and was recognized as an artist of the highest rank after his first appearance in Berlin and Vienna. As a composer Dohnanyi first founded his high reputation on works for the pianoforte and concerted chamber music. The infuence of Brahms on his manner of dealing with sonata form is evident through his early works.

Bravar is a graduate of the Juilliard School in New York. She has performed as a member of the Bach Festival at Marlboro, the Cabrillo Festival, BostonPhilharmonia and the Buffalo Philharmonic and has directed the Merrimack Valley Music Center and managed the New Hampshire Music Festival.

Skelton holds degrees from Hastings College and the New England Conservatory of Music. She was a Fulbright scholar and studied at the Academy of Music in Vienna, Austria.

Itzkoff is principal second violinist of the New Hampshire Symphony and a participant in the Monadnock Music Festival each summer. He performs solo and in chamber recitals in the Boston area. His former teachers include Philipp Naegele and Raphael Bronstein.

Thomas received his B.M. from Oberlin Conservaory and his M.F.A. from Penn State University, studying with Richard Kapuscinski and Pierre Fournier. He has performed in the United States and Europe and has been chairman of the music department at Phillips Academy for 12 years.

Combs is a graduate of the University of Idaho. He is full-time soloist at Follen Community Church in Lexington and sings at Emmanuel Church in Boston and appears frequently as soloist with choral societies throughout the Boston area.

Elowe In Piano Recital

The music department of Phillips Academy will present Carol Eaton Elowe, pianist, in recital on Sunday, May 17, at 3 p.m. in the Timken Recital Hall, Graves Hall, on the Andover campus. The public is invited.

The program will include Mozart's "Sonata in A Major," Schubert's "Fantasie in C Major" (Wanderer Fantasie) and works of John Heiss and Maurice Ravel.

Elowe was born in Portland, Maine. She is a graduate of the New England Conservatory of Music, where she earned her Bachelor of Music degree, and Syracuse University, where she was awarded her Master of Music degree. While at Syracuse, she was a teaching fellow and was elected to Pi Kappa Lambda Honor Society. Her teaching experience includes the extension divisions of the New England Conservatory in the Boston area and the North Shore Community College in Hamilton. She is presently a member of the faculty at Phillips Academy.

There is no admission charge.

Kitchen Design

by David A. Clement, Designer

The location of a new microwave oven in a remodeled kitchen can greatly affect its convenience and safety of its use. The danger of spilling hot foods should constrain the placement of a microwave to a height that is safe for all users. In a recent research experiment, 30 people of varying ages and heights attempted a variety of tasks on eight microwave ovens stationed at varying heights. The results showed that the oven's shelf should be no higher than the user's shoulder. At this optimum height, the user was able to see a casserole inside to check it for bubbling. This height also permitted the food to be seen when it was being taken out of the [illegible]

Sheep To Shed Winter Wool At Spring Festival

The 15th annual Sheep Shearing Festival, sponsored by the Museum of American Textile History, will be held Sunday, May 17, in North Andover.

Nearly 10,000 visitors are expected to participate from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. on the Old North Andover Common across from the museum. A variety of entertaining and educational events will include sheep shearing, sheepdog demonstrations, 4-H sheep competition, sheep-to-shawl demonstrations, carfts fair, yarn competition, the Great New England Spinning Bee, fleece judging and auction, live music, museum tours and food booths.

A flock of sheep will get their annual spring haircuts throughout the day from professional shearers Kevin Ford and Carol Markarian, who will explain sheep shearing techniques.

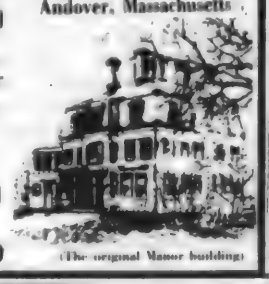

A crafts fair, sponsored by the North Andover Chapter of American Field Service, will feature 50 exhibitors displaying and selling original work. About 40 4-H members from Essex, Middlesex and Worcester counties will participate in a sheep competition to see which youngsters have raised prize-winning sheep.

Area spinners, correctly known as "spinsters," are invited to bring their wool and wheels to th Great New England Spinning Bee, a re-creation of an 18th-century spinning bee. The Kearsarge Roving Spinsters from New Hampshire will give a day-long, sheep-to-shawl demonstration showing each step in producing a shawl from raw fleece to the finished product. The Boston Area Spinners and Dyers will hold a yarn competition.

One of the most popular events is the sheepdog demonstrations. These dogs, border collies bred for sheep herding, will follow their handlers' verbal commands as they herd a flock of sheep through gates and into a pen. The handlers, Betty Levin, Ellen Raja and Virgil Holland of Lincoln, will explain how a sheepdog trial works while the dogs show their skills.

Allen Named Director

Peter O. Allen of Andover has been chosen director for "Alice in Blunderland," a musical comedy sponsored by North Andover's North Parish Unitarian Church and the North Andover People for Peace, to be presented at North Andover High School June 12 and 13.

Loosely based on Lewis Carroll's eccentric characters, "Blunderland" explores the absurdity of the nuclear arms race and the behavior which makes it possible. Through the use of imagination and laughter, "Alice" searches for the truth beneath the surface of rveryday life in the Nuclear Age. "I'm excited about 'Alice,' Its message is intriguing," says Allen. I am looking forward to the challenge of working jointly with a religious group and a peace group."

Allen is a teacher of vocal music at Governor Dummer Academy in Byfield. He holds a master's degree in music from the University of New Hampshire and served on the board of directors of the Andover Community Theater (ACT) last year. Past president of the New Hampshire Thespian Society, Allen also served as a drama director at Andover High School. With a specialty in community and secondary school theater, he has directed more than 30 productions. Some of his most recent productions include "Rehearsal for Murder," "My Fair Lady," "Snoopy,' "Peter Pan," "Guys and Dolls," "Charlie's Aunt," "Arsenic and Old Lace," "Harvey" and "A Funny Thing Happened on the Way to the Forum."

Walkers Raise $2,000

Sixteen walkers from West Parish Church earned more than $2,000 for the Greater Boston Walk for Hunger on May 3. Rev. Dirkje Legerstee, Michelle Sheehan, Kevin Sheehan, Diane Sheehan, Jen Harmoning, Priscilla Tyning, Kristi Gresh, Sarah Schmuhl, Kristi Schmuhl, David Doyle, Amanda Witman, Sarah Witman, Keith Bilger, George Bilger, Bonnie Bilger and Janet Rider participated.

These walkers completed the 20-mile walk and were among 25,000 participants who raised $2.5 million. This is Project Bread's 18th annual Walk for Hunger, "the single largest one-day fund-raiser against hunger in America."

Ninety percent of the money will help to fund more than 200 local agencies which operate food pantries, kitchens and shelter programs in Massachusetts. The remaining 10 percent of the funds will go to international projects in Phillippines, Haiti, South Africa and Central and Latin America.

The church school at West Parish Church had a mini-walk for hunger in which Sunday school students raised money.

Earnings Increase At Standex

Standex International Corporation reported a 13 percent increase in earnings per share on a 6 percent increase in sales in the third fiscal quarter ended March 31, as compared to the prior year.

Sales for the period were the highest for any third quarter in the company's history. Sales for the latest nine-month period were also a record. The company said that the fourth quarter results "should exceed those of a year ago."

In the announcement, Thomas L. King, president and chief executive officer, stated, "We continue to be pleased with the sales and earnings results reported by most of our divisions, particularly in view of the generally lackluster performance of the manufacturing sector of the U.S. economy."

In the third fiscal quarter, earnings per share amounted to 34 cents a share, as compared to the prior year's 30 cents a share. Net income was $4.2 million on sales of $98.8 million, as compared to net income of $3.9 million on sales of $93.2 million the previous year. Per share earnings were based on 12.4 million average shares outstanding.

For the nine-month period ended March 31, earnings were $1.02 a share on net income of $12.5 million, up from 86 cents a share on net income of $11.3 million last year. Sales in the latest nine months were $305.1 million, compared to $278.3 million a year ago.

King went on to say, "Earnings continue to be particularly strong at Standex Electronics, Roehlen Industries and the commercial products division. The institutional division is also enjoying a good year and, in particular, its Snappy operations, producers of ducts and fittings for the heating, ventilation and air conditioning markets.

"Our balance sheet remains very strong," King said. Book value at March 31 amounted to $12.61 a share, the debt-to-capital ratio was 25.6 percent and the current ratio was 3.3 to 1. Working capital was $8.84 a share.

The Pike School is looking forward to an exciting raffle at The Pike School Country Fair on Saturday, May 9, thanks to the generosity of area merchants. The raffle and fair will be at The Pike School, Sunset Rock Road, Andover, from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m., rain or shine.

Prizes include a $250 gift certificate from Shreve, Crump & Low, a color television donated by The Arlington Trust Company, an original landscape work of art and a bicycle donated by Victor Hugo, Inc. Tickets may be purchased at the fair.

There will be refreshments, games, plants, homemade pies, crafts, country pictures and a design-your-own-t-shirt booth. Admission is free.

Recycling Sale At Bazaar

The sale and auction will spring back at Old Town Hall on June 27, the Saturday of Andover's Sidewalk Bazaar Days. Andover recyclers are enthusiastic about having their sale right at the heart of downtown's festive yearly event when Main Street is transformed into an open-air mall for strolling, browsing, bargain hunting, snacking, meeting friends and being entertained.

Although this year's recycling sale will operate on a smaller scale than at cavernous Draper Hall, hundreds of treasures in housewares, toys, antiques, collectibles, jewelry and small furniture will still be offered. Books, records, clothing, appliances, tires and construction items will not be available, however. A bike auction will be featured at 10 a.m. The sale will run from 9 a.m. until noon.

Donated items will be received Fridays from 4 p.m. to 6 p.m. starting May 29 and Saturdays from 8:30 a.m. to 10:30 a.m. on and after May 30.

Arbor Day Program At Bancroft School

The Andover Junior Garden Club presented an Arbor Day program for children in grades 1 through 6 at Bancroft School on Tuesday, April 28. Mrs. Iora Alexander, school principal, worked with club members to create a heightened interest in this special event.

Children filled the auditorium to hear Andover Garden Club President Ann Lange describe the origins of Arbor Day. She told her audience that each would receive a white dogwood, 18" to 24," approximately three years old. The trees, obtained through the Massachusetts Tree Wardens and Foresters Association, came with instructions for planting and care.

Edith King is chairman of the Andover Junior Garden Club. Nicia Gruener is co-chair. This active and creative committee holds regular meetings for children interested in gardening.

Seven of the assembled children were members of the junior club: Jennifer Neal and Amy Rollf, sixth graders; Melissa King, John Gruener and Tricia Duarte, fifth graders; Katie Brown and Hannah Pfeifle, third graders.

Students in the first grade classes read original poems. Fourth graders read famous poetry with a nature theme and spoke briefly of the history of Arbor Day. Grades 1 through 4 formed a chorus to sing "Sing a Rainbow."

Bancroft teachers were part of this program and each were presented with a dogwood tree.

Blue Ribbon Winners In "Familiar Things Flower Show

In the Division 1-Design area, "A May Day Greeting," Ila Cox was cited for her arrangement of fresh plant material at a door of entry. "Gracious Hospitality," a design of fresh plant material on a hall table showing oriental influence, was best presented by Genevieve Boshar. She also received the special award in memory of a beloved past president, Ruth Cleveland.

Nicia Gruener was awarded top prize for "Busy Hands," a candlestick epernette of all fresh plant material placed on a fragment of fabric supplied by the committee. Her arrangement was also honored by the Tricolor Award. Harriet Cowdery received a blue ribbon for design for a hat to complement a period gown. Apgapantha, fresia, lily, heather leaf and baby's breath was used.

In the Juniors category, Peter Alsop won recognition for his design on a slate. Julie Burns was commended for her ivy plant in the horticulture section as was Jennifer Neil for her foliage entry. Peter Cox won the blue ribbon and "Junor Achievement" recognition from the Garden Club Federation of Mass. for his geranium plant as did Melissa King for her design in an inkwell. Amy Roll excelled in the competition for design of all fresh material in a mug. The Junior Garden Club is chaired by Edith King and co-chaired by Nicia Gruener.

The horticulture section featured three award categories. The Arboreal Award was won by Jan Brink, an Award of Merit was presented to Ann Lange, Mary LoBuglio and Ellen Fraser and the Sweepstake Award, given to the exhibitor winning the largest number of awards in the division, went to club president Ann Lange.

Also receiving blue ribbons for their entries in this area were Dottie Drake, Harriet Cowdery, Lois Simmons, Fran DisJordin, Claire Syieck, Constance Gilmore, Priscilla Cook, Clare Richards, Helga Frazette, Susan Hirshlierz, Dianne Mayberry, Julie Swan.

This division included woody ornamental deciduous flowering branches, broadleaf evergreens in bloom, narcissus, tulips, minor spring bulbs and perennials. Visitors enjoyed a total of 48 different specimens.

Ann Lange was chairman for this judged show. Classification for design was Claire Syiek. Lois Simmons and Clare Richards handled classification for horticulture. Co-chairmen were Genevieve Boshar and Judy Wright. Schedules were written by Dorothy Hill and Leslie Frost. Virtually every member in the club participated in this major presentation which also included a plant sale from members' homes and gardens and a gift "boutique" coordinated by Lola Monks, Kay Noyes and Harriet Cowdery. Volunteerings is a good way to determine interest in a medical or paramedical career. Junior volunteers perform a variety of duties, including patient escort, nurse's aide, coffee shop, reception desk and dietary assistant.

Every year the LGH Aid Association awards a $1000 college scholarship to a high school senior who has contributed at least 200 hours of volunteer service to the hospital. According to Mary O'Brien, director of volunteer services, volunteer work can also be a very positive factor in support of a student's college application.

For more information, call the Lawrence General Hospital volunteer office.

Kenyan Bishop At Confirmation

The Right Reverend James I. Mundia, Anglican Bishop of the Diocese of Maseno in Kenya, confirmed 18 members of the Christ Church congregation and received three people from other communions this past Sunday.

In his sermon, the Bishop commented on a question he has often been asked in this country: did he feel that christianity was an intrusion upon Black, African culture. He responded that since the Christian faith was not a white religion but a faith available to all people, the act of its being offered in Africa was a gift, not an occasion for guilt.

As part of the Confirmation service, Jennifer Nichols Muscatelo, daughter of Mark and Sandra Muscatello of North Andover, was baptized by the Rev. James A. Diamond, rector of Christ Church. Bishop Mundia continued the confirmation of Lisa Allen, Devon Arsenault, John Bolis, Hether Bryce, Danyelle Constantineau, Shelby Currier, Jonathan Frothingham, Alison Gibson, Michael Hagerty, Elizabeth Hanson, Margaret Hoyt, Joan Marchessault, Benjamin Medler, Rebecca Robinson, Ward Russell, Erika Wood, Jennifer Wood and Peter Vaill. The Bishop also received Louis Boulier, Jr., Claude Marchessault and Charles Kirk.

Eighth-grade candidates for confirmation are asked to make two commitments for the following year, one to the parish and another to the community. Several of the students will serve as acolytes, some will sing in the parish choir while others volunteered to assist in the nursery school. The whole eighth grade class decided to help maintain Roger's Dell at School and Lupine Streets as the community project.

Famed Woman Admiral To Be Memorial Day Speaker

Grace Murray Hopper

A planned tribute to Andover women who have served in the armed services during traditional Memorial Day exercises has been enhanced by the appearance of the country's most distinguished female officer.

Rear AdmiralGrace Murray Hopper, the highest ranking female officer in the United States armed forces, will be the principal speaker at the principal services at Memorial Auditorium at 10 a.m. May 25, according to John Lewis who heads Andover's Patriotic Services Committee.

The services will be preceded by the Memorial Day parade which will begin at 9:30 a.m. and proceed to the auditorium.

Hopper has been the recipient of many honors and honorary doctorate degrees during her many years of service to her country and to the computer industry.

Grace Brewster Murray was born December 9, 1906, in New York, N.Y. She claims Wolfeboro, N.H., as her second hometown, to which she first traveled in the summer of 1907. She attended Vassar College, graduating in 1928 with Phi Beta Kapa and a Vassar College fellowship. She attended Yale University where she received the degrees of MA in 1930 and PhD in 1934 together with election to Sigma Xi and two Sterling Scholarships.

She returned to Vassar as an assistant in mathematics in 1931, becoming successively instructor, assistant professor and associate professor. During this time she received a Vassar Faculty Fellowship and studied at New York University (1941-42).

She entered the United States Naval Reserve (USNR) in December 1943 and attended the USNR Midshipman's School-W at Northampton, Mass. Upon graduation she was commissioned Lieutenant (JG) and ordered to the Bureau of Ordnance Computation Project at Harvard where she learned to program the first large-scale digital computer, Mark I. Hopper resigned from her leave-of-absence from Vassar in 1946 and joined the Harvard faculty as a research fellow in Engineering Sciences and Applied Physics at the Computation Laboratory where work continued on the Mark II and Mark III computers for the Navy. That same year she received the Naval Ordinance Development Award.

In 1949 she joined the Ecket-Mauchly Computer Corporation in Philadelphia, then building the UNIVAC I, the first commercial large-scale electronic computer, as senior mathematician. Hopper remained with the company as a senior programmer when it was bought by Remington Rand and later merged into the Sperry Corporation. She was appointed systems engineer, director of automatic programming, in 1952 when she published the first paper on compilers. In 1964 she became staff scientist, systems programming. She retired from the UNIVAC division of Sperry Rand Corporation in December 1971, while on military leave.

Since 1952 Hopper has published more than 50 papers and articles on software and programming languages. Her interest in applications programming sent her to the first meeting of CODASYL with a strong interest in the development of COBOL. She has served on the ANSI X3.4 committee on the standardization of computer languages and is presently serving on the CODASYL executive committee.

She has served at the Moore School of Electrical Enginering of the University of Pennsylvania as visiting lecturer, starting in 1959; visiting assistant professor in 1962; visiting associate professor in 1963; adjunct professor of engineering since 1973. She was appointed professorial lecturer in Management Science at the George Washington University in 1971 and served until 1978.

Hopper was elected Fellow of the Institute of Electrical and electronics Engineers in 1962. She was selected to receive the 1964 Achievement Award by the Society of Women Engineers. The Data Processing Management Association elected her as their first computer sciences "Man-of-the-Year" in 1969. The American Federation of Information Processing Societies gave her the Harry Goode Memorial Award in 1970. In 1971 the UNIVAC Division of the Sperry Corporation initiated the Grace Murray Hopper Award for young computer personnel to be awarded annually by the Association for Computing Machinery. Hopper received the honorary degree of Doctor of Engineering from the Newark College of Engineering, a Wilbur Lucius Cross Medal from Yale University and was made a Fellow of the Association of Computer Programmers and Analysts in 1972. In 1973 she received the honorary degree of Doctor of Science from the C.W. Post College of Long Island University, was elected to membership in the National Academy of Engineering, was presented with the Legion of Merit by the Navy and was selected as a Distinguished Fellow of the British University of Pennsylvania at the 50th Anniversary Convocation honoring the Moore School of Electrical Engineering. She received the Distinguished Member Award of the Washington, D.C. chapter of the Association for Computing Machinery in 1976 and an honorary Doctor of Science from the Pratt Institute. In 1979 she received the W. Wallce McDowell Award from the Institute of Electrical and Electronics Engineers (IEEE) Society. In 1980, Hopper received the Meritorious Service Award from the Navy, an Honorary Doctor of Science from Linkoping University, Sweden, Honorary Doctor of Science from Bucknell University and an Honorary Doctor of Science from Acadia University, Nova Scotia. In 1981 she received Honorary Docotor of Science degrees from Loyola University, Chicago and the Southern Illinois State University and an Honorary Doctor of

Ralston Named To Selectman Post

By Karen L. Day

Gail Ralston, as expected, took her seat on the Board of Selectmen Monday night after being officially appointed and sworn in.

Upon taking that seat, Ralston said a simple, "Let's get to work," but before the board could do just that, a worker on Ralston's recent campaign, (for the seat won by retired Fire Chief William Downs), rose and tacked up a computer print-out banner on the bulletin board. The banner read, "Victory for Gail! Oh, how sweet it is!"

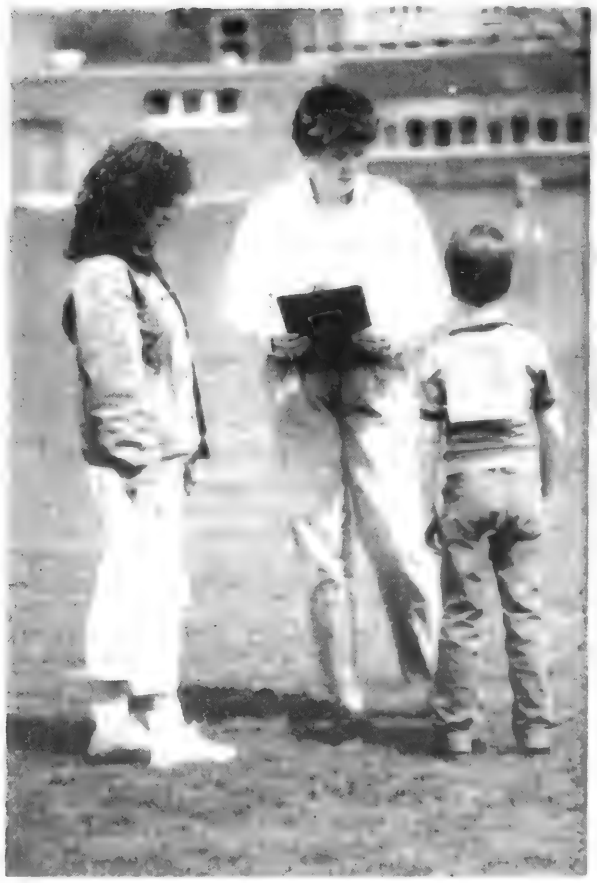

The board then began the short evening's work with a discussion about the Special Town Meeting and the warrant articles for that meeting. It was announced that the town meeting date and location would be changed to Monday, June 8, in the Memorial Auditorium, rather than the Collins Center, as originally planned.

Selectman William Dalton then proposed that two articles be added to the warrant remaining from the "dissolved" town meeting.

The first of the two proposed (and placed on the warrant) was the acceptance of the state's Chapter 73, Acts of 1986, which allows for the abatement of property taxes for the elderly and widowed and for relief from re-evaluation of property for these two groups.

Chairman Gerald Silverman commented that the board had acted in favor of Chapter 73 through State Representative Susan Tucker on the state level and now wanted to formally adopt it for the

A Late Decision

The school committee decision to begin the school year prior to the Labor Day holiday has met with some deservedly harsh criticism.

The board, during a work session this week, talked about reconsidering their adoption of the school calendar, but failed to alter their decision to resume classes on September 2, the Monday prior to Labor Day.

Important in their consideration, it was pointed out, was the fact that Labor Day was later than usual this year, something that happens every four to six years.

The school department must also allow for snow days during the winter months when planning to meet the state-mandated 180-day school year.

Another consideration in the final decision was contractual obligations which dictate that teachers complete their school year at the end of June. Should the school year be extended beyond that date due to the need to make up for snow days, there would be no teachers available, according to contract obligations, a fact we find hard to fathom. There is realization that teachers work under contract now, but remain somewhat doubtful that the entire faculty would turn their back on the community if there was need to put in a few more days.

The decision, which apparently is going to stand, could well have been avoided, or at least eased, if, somewhere along the line, someone in command, either in administration or on the school committee, recognized that Labor Day was, indeed, late this year, and went to work on adjusting the school calendar accordingly.

Now it is easy to say that there were many other things of major import under consideration, such as budgets, curriculum planning, etc.

But, this is not the first time there has been a later-than-usual holiday to consider, and someone should have alerted those in command to the fact.

Many people have summer plans, now forced to be altered. Persons also may just disregard the school opening and go on with their planned lives, not the best of situations to be sure.

There are, obviously, enough relief valves in the school calendar to have overcome this situation, such as reducing February and April vacations, maybe eliminating some of the in-service days, etc.

As for only a single group protesting the early school opening, namely the teachers, the school committee is mistaken. There are several angered parents in the community whose voices more than likely will be heard on the matter.

The opportunity was presented at Tuesday night's work session to have the matter reconsidered, but the membership indicated that the three-two vote would stand.

It is strongly suggested that the school board members think a bit about the matter prior to their next meeting and consider altering the early opening plan and rework the school calendar to comply with the standard and traditional after-Labor Day school opening.

Down The Years With The Townsman

75 Years Ago — May 1912

Are you going to see the Maypole dance on May 21st at the Town Hall?

The choir boys of Christ church will play the choir boys of Grace church, Lawrence, on the Andover playstead tomorrow forenoon at ten o'clock.

Phillips Academy made a poor showing in the first track meet of the season held on Saturday afternoon with the Harvard Freshmen. The final score was 83 to 25. Andover was badly handicapped by the ineligibility of a large number of the track squad to compete.

The Boy Scouts patrol of the Baptist Church was given a very instructive talk on the anatomy of the human body by Dr. Charles E. Abbott. The talk was the first in a series to be presented by area doctors.

By the returns made in connection with the play in behalf of the District Nurse Fund, it is clear that a goodly sum will be realized by the grangers in their effort to help this most important Andover institution.

The size of a statesman is sometimes measured by his efficiency as a public servant, but not often. It is more often measured by his ability to attract attention.

50 Years Ago — May 1937

The Bolten home on South Main St., in deep grief for three hours last night, was restored to a hopeful happiness near midnight when a telephone call was received from Lakehurst, N.J. by Mrs. Bolten, telling her that her mother was safe after the Hindenburg explosion.

"Very comfortable" is the way the few persons who have had the doubtful privilege of riding in the new ambulance have described their bedridden journey. Not yet, fortunately, pressed into service for emergency use, it has been used several times on medical cases.

On Monday evening, the Adventurers—Andover's new community theatre group—will hold its annual meeting, thus concluding its first complete year.

Physical education, recently extended to the businessmen and women, may soon be extended also to the youngsters.

After a whole winter without any snow shoveling, everyone ought to be right in trim—to trim the lawn.

The TOWNSMAN weather bureau predicts fog in London for the coronation.

25 Years Ago — May 1962

The Andover Board of Trade has the green light from the Selectmen to make this year's Sidewalk Bazaar a gala event. The Selectmen have agreed to close off Main St. from Chestnut St. to the square—thus the hustle and bustle of busy shoppers and small fry will not be impeded by cars.

Another step along the Rogers Brook pathway was taken by the Selectmen Monday night, when they signed a bond, holding the state blameless for damages resulting from the construction of the brook, or from faulty design. This may be a routine requirement, but we can't avoid a feeling of worry every time the town engages in official activities with the much-disputed Division of Waterways.

The state Legislature, in its infinite wisdom, appears to be creating another headache for local government, in the guise of helping it. The Legislature is now considering a bill to require banks to make two payments of tax money to the town, instead of the annual payment now received.

It appears that the Selectmen are making an honest effort to help solve the parking problem in Shawsheen. Naturally, all residents are not going to like their decision, but this obviously cannot be helped.

10 Years Ago — May 1977

It was Round 4 for next year's school calendar Tuesday night, as the School Committee added a few variations to last week's theme, and came up with a net gain of one school day. School will let out on June 22, providing that no more than four snow days are used.

Andover's Town Meeting will get underway Monday night under the veil of a tax increase—the only question is how much? The voters of the town will have the opportunity to carve out their tax levy for the coming year which is expected to range between three and seven dollars—in doubt due to the uncertainty of state reimbursements.

School Chairman David Ahouse last week singled out a payment in the amount of $884.14 to Atty. Savatore Basili because, he said, he thought people should be aware of what legal fees are costing the committee "almost on a monthly basis."

Superintendent Kenneth Seifert noted a poor turnout at last Thursday night's career education night at Andover High School, but complimented the business education department on its organization of the event.

Warrior Varsity Drops Two

The Andover varsity baseball team dropped two out of three games. The team was victorius over Wilmington, getting a fine relief performance from Steve Surette and Scott Wallace and some timely hitting from Chris Sapuppo and Glen Allard.

The team then dropped a 6-3 decision to Central Catholic despite a fine relief performance from Wallace. This was followed by a tough extra-inning 6-5 loss to Billerica, despite fine pitching by Surette and a fine defensive and hitting performance by Rick Lafond.

Andover 8 - Wilmington 3

Andover jumped to an early 2-0 lead in the first inning when Rick Lafond started things off with a walk, followed by a triple by Chris Sapuppo, scoring Lafond, and an infield out by Murray, scoring Sapuppo. Wilmington took a 3-2 lead in the second.

Andover got one back in the third when Sapuppo singled, stole second and was sacrificed over to third. Glen Allard then placed a perfect suicide squeeze.

Wilmington threatened in the fifth with the bases loaded and one out when Steve Surette relieved Tom Murray. He got both hitters to pop up to work out of a tough situation.

Andover scored four times in the sixth when Chris Concemi doubled, Gerry Nassiff singled and Scott Wallce walked to load the bases. Lafond hit a sacrifice fly, scoring Concemi, Sapuppo hit into an infield out scoring Nassiff and Mark Tucker tripled to score Sapuppo. Allard's single scored Tucker.

Wallace finished the game, pitching to three hitters in the seventh.

Sapuppo, Nassiff and Wallace all had two hits.

Central Catholic 6 - Andover 3

Central Catholic jumped to a 4-0 lead in the first. Andover got two in the second inning to close the lead 4-2. Glen Allard walked, Cam Deery doubled, Steve Howes hit into a fieldrer's choice, Chris Concemi walked and Gerry Nassiff came through with a big single scoring Deery and Howes.

Central got one in the third and one in the seventh to increase their lead 6-2. Andover loaded the bases on a walk and two hit batsmen, but were able to score only one run on a bases-loaded walk to Concemi.

Andover got five good innings of relief from Scott Wallace and had only three hits which were by Deery, Nassiff and Mark Tucker.

Billerica 6 - Andover 5

Andover jumped to a 1-0 lead on a Steve Howes walk and a Glen allard single and Howes came into score on an overthrow.

Billerica got one back in the first, one in the third and two in the fourth to take a 4-1 lead. Andover got three back in the fourth on a single by Rick Lafond, a walk to Chris Concemi and a sacrifice bunt by Gerry Nassiff, putting runners at second and third. A Scott Wallace infielder's fielder choice scored Lafond. Chris Sapuppo's single scored Concemi. The team then ran a well-executed first and third with Wallace scoring the tieing run.

What to do in the month of May...

Transplant vegetable and annual seedlings into the garden. It is best to do this on a cloudy day to reduce the strain on the plants.
Plant your window boxes at this time.
Put fish into your outdoor ponds. During the spring they will eat mosquito and blackfly larvae.
Begin to add your summer time mulch as your planting progresses.
This is the best time to plant outdoor ornamentals. (trees, shrubs, and perennials)
Plow under any winter cover crops into your garden.
Apply broad leaf weed killer to your lawn.
Winter injuries should be pruned off of your ornamentals.
Plant gladiolas in garden. Start your dahlias indoors in pots and put them out in the garden at the end of the month.

Hot Hitters Key Wins

By Dan Grams

Hot hitting was the story last week as Andover High School won three contests, upping their season record to 9-1. The Junior Warriors notched their second road win of the season, slipping by Haverhill 10-7 as John Russell enjoyed a perfect day at the plate, going 3-for-3 with three RBIs.

The Golden Warriors defeated Wilmington 13-0 and handed Central Catholic their second loss of the season 8-6. Sophomore centerfielder Matt Pothier picked up five safeties in the two games.

Andover 10- Haverhill 7

Andover jumped to a quick 3-0 lead, but had to play catch-up the rest of the game, rallying for three runs in the last inning to defeat Haverhill 10-7.

An Andy Weiner single, sandwiched between walks to Matt Pothier and Mike Moriaty loaded the bases in the opening inning. Keith Abernathy forced home the first run with a walk before John Russell stroked an RBI single. John Glynn closed the inning, scoring with an RBI sacrifice fly.

From this point on, however, it was all Haverhill, as Andover starter Keith Abernathy was roughed up for six runs. Russell was summoned to put out the fire, but a tough Haverhill team upped the margin 7-3.

Andover continued to pick away at the Haverhill lead, cutting it to 7-6, and pushed across four tallies in the final stanza for the win.

Weiner, Moriaty and Abernathy all walked to set the table for back-to-back, two-run doubles by Russell and Glynn.

In addition to Russell's perfect 3-for-3 day at the plate, he also collected three RBIs. Glynn, Weiner, Moriaty, Doug Howes and Paul Demarco had the other hits.

Andover 13 - Wilmington 0

Righthander Todd Mustrait blanked Wilmington 13-0. He allowed five hits while striking out two and walking one to raise his record 3-0. This was his second shutout in as many games.

The Andover bats collected 13 hits, four of them for extra bases.

The Golden Warriors scored all the runs they would need in the second, sending 13 batters to the plate. John Glynn and Jack Dalton ripped back-to-back singles. A pair of walks to Paul Demarco and Pothier, along with a hit batsman, brought Andover's first runs home. Singles by Mike Moriaty, Dalton, Demarco and Glynn's second safety of the inning produced six more runs, leaving Andover at an early 8-0 advantage.

The Golden Warriors erupted for five runs in the third. Keith Abernathy and Glynn had the big hits with two RBIs each.

Glynn paced Andover with three hits and three runs scored. Catcher Dalton had two hits and two RBIs while Pothier, Peter Radulski, Russell, Abernathy, Demarco and Doug Howes chipped in with single safeties. Steve McSweeney stood out defensively.

Andover 8 - Central 6

The Junior Warriors turned in their best performance of the week with a well-played come-from-behind victory over a tough Central Catholic squad 8-6.

The timely hitting of Matt Pothier and the great defensive play of outfielders Pothier, Moriaty and Radulski enabled pitcher John Russell to go the distance for his fourth victory of the year. Central outhit Andover 9-5, but Russell was able to pitch out many tough spots with the aid of some fine defensive plays.

Central jumped to a quick 4-0 lead before each team traded a pair of runs in the third. Radulski led off with a walk and stole second. Pothier followed with an RBI double and went to third on a passed ball. Moriaty rescued Pothier with a sacrifice fly.

Andover added two tallies in the fourth to chase Central starter and Andover resident Glenn Farnham from the mound. Hot hitting Jackie Dalton ripped a lead-off sngle. Walks by Radulski and Demarco, plus a Pothier hit brought home another tally, before Weiner delivered Demarco with an RBI fly.

Andover went in front to stay in the fifth with three as Pothier again had the key hit with a two-run single. The final run came in the sixth as Matt Salamone trotted home on an Abernathy single.

Central's biggest chance was thwarted in the sixth with the bases loaded and two out. A line drive headed for the right field line was snagged by the rolling rightfielder Radulski to end the threat.

Pothier had a big day, going 2-for-3 with four RBIs. Signal caller Jack Dalton also shone.

May is Better Hearing and Speech Month. This annual recognition has been designated to help increase national hearing health awareness. There are approximately 20 million hearing impaired Americans today. Although more than 90 percent of their hearing problems can be overcome, the majority of these people have not sought professional help.

If you or someone you know is experiencing a hearing loss, "Dial A Hearing Screening Test" can help. It is a two-minute recording over the telephone which introduces four tones for each ear. Full instructions, a list of medical problems associated with hearing loss and local medical and audiological referral is given.

For a local DAHST number, dial 1-800-222-EARS or 1-800-345-EARS in Pennsylvania between 9 a.m. and 6 p.m

Orioles 10 - Pirates 2

The American League Orioles opened their 1987 season with a 10-2 victory over the National League Pirates.

Orioles' John Bowman opened the game with a line single to left. Ken Oppenheim followed with a single to right. After Chad Bowman walked, Johnny Dwight's base hit gave the Orioles a two-run lead. The Pirates evened the score in the bottom half of the first with Anthony Russo driving home two with a line-drive double.

The Orioles added one in the second and four in the third, mainly as a result of Pirate errors and base-on-balls. Bowman and Oppenheim continued to reach with base hits.

Rodd Malitsky and Chris Hoffman each pitched three outstanding innings with Malitsky gaining the win and Hoffman the save. Dwight was masterful behind the plate.

The Pirates' Scott Henry led the offense with three base hits with A. Russo (2) and Alex Marshall (1) completing the hit totals.

Defensively, the Orioles were exceptional, primarily in the infield with Mike McCarthy, Oppenheim, Chad Bowman, Mike Shepard and Malitsky the stars. Oppenheim made the play of the game with a back-handed stab of a line drive in the second.

Red Sox 3 - Cubs 2

The Red Sox beat the Cubs 3-2 in extra innings.

Jeff Lembo pitched six innings for the Red

300 Stockholders At Session

Andover Savings Bank (NASDAQ:ANDB) held its first stockholders' meeting April 23 at the Marriott Hotel in Andover. More than 300 stockholders were in attendance.

Owners of 89 percent of the bank's stock were represented by proxy and approved the election of the clerk, the proposed slate of directors and the Andover Savings Bank 1986 Stock Option Plan.

Also approved was the formation of a bank-holding company to be known as Andover Bancorp, Inc. This vote by shareholders is the first step in a plan of reorganization and is subject to regulatory review. Finalization of the holding company is expected in the fall of 1987. With the completion of this plan of reorganization, Andover Savings Bank will become a subsidiary of Andover Bancorp, Inc. and will operate independently with no anticipated changes in bank operations.

The earnings of the first quarter of 1987, ended March 31, were released at the meeting. Net income for the first quarter increased 94 percent over the same period in 1986. Net income totalled $2,825,000 or 56 cents per common share, compared to $1,454,000 in the first quarter of 1986. Net income included net security gains of $812,000 (before tax effect) and a net gain of $64,000 on the sale of mortgage loans in 1987.

The bank's assets grew to $563 million during the first quarter and deposits totalled $361 million. The bank's capital to asset ratio now stands at 18.1 percent.

Andover Savings Bank is a Massachusetts charted savings bank organized in 1834 and headquartered in Andover. Branch banking offices are located in Andover, Lawrence, Methuen, North Andover and Tewksbury. The bank converted from a mutual institution to a stockholder-owned corporation on May 8, 1986.

Hospicare Program Initiated

Massachusetts Electric Company has begun implementation of its Hospicare Program, designed to give hospitalized Mass. Electric customers the option to defer their electric bill payments until they are out of the hospital and have had a reasonable recovery period. The program will innvolve the 49 hospitals located in the Mass. Electric service territory.

"When someone is in the hospital, they should be concerned about recovery, not paying their bills. The Hospicare Program that Mass. Electric is initiating will ensure that people need not worry about their electric bills and can concentrate on getting well," said Edward E. Mulligan, president of Mass. Electric.

The Hospicare Program will be part of the hospital's admitting procedure. When a patient enters a hospital in the Mass. Electric service territory, they will receive a Hospicare card and letter from Mass. Elctric in their admission package. Once the the patient fills out and mails the card, their Mass. Elctric account will be specially coded so that no credit action will occur until they have recuperated.

When the customer's recovery period has ended, a representative from a Mass. Electric's customer service office will contact the customer to resume a regular bill payment schedule or work out a conveneient payment arrangement.

For more information on Mass. Electric's Hospicare Program, contact the customer service officer at the telephone number listed on the electric bill.

Mass. Electric serves 849,000 customers in 146 Massachusetts communities and is a subsidiary of New England Electric System.

Raspberries Eatery: Catering And Dinner To Go

Raspberries Eatery, at 46 Main St. in Andover, is probably best known to everyone as a fabulous lunch spot, but if you look beyond the massive luncheon crowds into the heart of Raspberries, you'll find so much more.

Raspberries offers on-site catering that can make your entertaining a dream come true. And Raspberries just might be the most flexible caterer you'll ever encounter. Owner Dana Wilson says they'll travel anywhere in New England. They've been to the South Shore, Worcester, R.I., and Cape Ann. They've catered to homes, beaches and to clearings in the forest. Raspberries will cater an intimate candlelight dinner for two, or they'll cater an entire wedding. They'll come to your home to set up, or they'll drop the food off at your door. You can request a 4 or 5 course sit-down dinner including soup or chowder, salads, a choice of entrees, and dessert. If you prefer a buffet Raspberries offers almost anything you can imagine. They'll even bake a cake!

In addition to catering, Raspberries has recently begun making dinners to go. Dana found that while he was preparing food for the next day, people were calling him to find out, "What's cooking?" Then they'd ask Dana to set aside a few servings that they would pick up for dinner. Raspberries is no stranger to dinner preparation. They cook for Andover's ABC House five nights a week. Dana says people like the idea of picking up a hot meal to bring home for dinner rather than the standard subs, pizza or hamburgers. He says of his dinners to go, "It's not something frozen, not something that has to be heated up, and it's not something that was made three days ago. And it's healthy! There's no salt, no preservatives. That's something I'm particularly proud of — that everything is fresh — and I enjoy doing it." The selection might be as basic as tuna casserole, or as fancy as medallions of beef. If you call Dana by 3:00 pm he'll have your dinner ready to go.

So drop into Raspberries for a breakfast muffin and coffee, a luncheon sandwich and soda, or a dinner-to-go. Open Mon-Sat 8-5 (or 6). Call 475-3523.

General Manager Mike Bucci with a selection of '87 Bonnevilles

William Pontiac: Move Over Cadillac & Buick — Here Comes Bonneville!

"Welcome to the state of the art. The all new Bonneville SE sports sedan is the latest expression of Pontiac's road car philosophy. A superb example of advanced styling and engineering combined for the singular thrill of driving."

There's excitement at William Pontiac, and that excitement has been generated by the arrival of the 1987 models, particularly the all new Pontiac Bonneville. The Bonneville is all new from nose to tail and it has redefined the full size automobile. The Bonneville offers the same size, ride, quality and comfort normally found in front wheel drive Cadillacs, but at a more affordable price. In short, the Bonneville provides luxury at a price you can afford. The Bonneville offers three models with efficiency, style, and precision to meet the current demand for sophisticated road cars.

Another Pontiac to consider is the Grand Am, considered to be one of the top products of GM, based on sales. And the exciting Fieros, Firebirds, and Firebird Trans Ams cannot be overlooked.

General Manager Mike Bucci is happy to report that sales are up 30% since the time the Deluca Corp. acquired William Pontiac. Mike attributes this increase in sales to the way the staff at William Pontiac conducts its business. Mike Feels that servicing their new and used cars is the 1 priority of the owners, the management and the employees. "We're not looking to be the biggest, we're just looking to be the best," says Mike. The fact that they are a small dealership allows them to provide more personalized service.

Visit William Pontiac, and buy some excitement. Turn right off Rte 495 at Exit 49 - they're one mile on the left at 503 River St., Haverhill. Parts & Service: Mon-Fri 8-5. Sales: Mon-Fri 8-9, Sat 9-6. 373-2800.

The second additional article is for the acceptance of Deerfield Way, which had been up for acceptance twice previously, but the developer was, at the time, unable to lay the final coat on the road and acceptance was thus delayed.

Debbie Moggio, 3 Hidden Road, suggested that the Selectmen change the order of the articles remaining on the warrant, but four of the five Selectmen felt that such action would only cause confusion. Only Selectman Ralston declined to choose sides when asked.

Members of the board then placed their bids for liaison assignments. The assignments are as follows:

Silverman: Board of Health, Collins Center, Finance, and Cable Advisory;

Dalton: Zoning Board of Appeals, Essex County Advisory, Design Advisory,

IDFA & DIC, and the newly created Housing Partnership;

Wesson: Library, Community Watch, Conservation Commission, Community Services, and Parking;

Downs: Building Maintenance, Historical Commission, Spring Grove Cemetery, and Town Meeting Improvement;

Ralston: School Committee, Planning Board, Elderly Affairs, and Senior Opportunity Panel.

In other business:

The board appointed George "Russ" Moran, a former Planning Board member, to the soon-to-be-vacant seat of Paul Curley on the Planning Board. Curley has been transferred to Washington, D.C.

A permit was approved by the board to allow Bay State Gas Company to excavate approximately four feet in Salem St. at number 100 to install new gas service. A second permit was issued to the Andover Artists Guild to use Central Park for the 13th Annual Andover Art-in-the-Park program on Saturday, Sept. 12, with a rain date of Sunday, Sept. 13.

Craig Duxbury examines paddlefish in an Aquacell at The Land, a pavilion presented by Kraft, Inc. at EPCOT Center, Walt Disney World, Florida. Craig, a senior at the University of Vermont, is participating in the six-month Agricultural Student Program, co-sponsored by Kraft and Disney.

Participates In Program

Craig Duxbury is one of seven top college students participating in the Agricultural Student Program co-sponsored by Kraft, Inc at Walt Disney World in central Florida. Duxbury, a senior majoring in biology at the University of Vermont, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Victor Duxbury of Andover.

During the six-month work/study program, Duxbury is working as an aquaculturist at The Land, the agricultural communications, research and production facility presented by Kraft, at EPCOT Center. The work involves feeding, harvesting and maintaining fish in the environmentally controlled Aquacell. Feature attractions of this six-acre pavilion are tropic, desert and creative greenhouses that thousands of visitors see every day as part of the "Listen to the Land" boat ride. The facility is the only major showcase of the world's most important food and fiber crops, plus other plants and fish with significant agricultural potential.

"What I like best about The Land program is the way it provides both a working as well as a learning experience," says Duxbury. "Because my particular interest is aquaculture, I am raising several species of fish for my special project. In addition, I am researching these species' resistance to several chemicals commonly used for algae control." He plans to attend graduate school and pursue a career in aquaculture or water resources management.

The students work alongside The Land's scientists to learn about integrated pest management, aquaculture, tissue cluture, computer applications, plant, soil and water analysis and other important agricultural and horticultural areas. They also conduct walking tours of the greenhouses. As part of this educational experience, Duxbury is participating in a discussion course that emphasizes national and world agriculture as well as agricultural products and technologies.

A Home in Stoneham recently beautified by Aluminum Age

Aluminum Age: More Than Meets The Eye

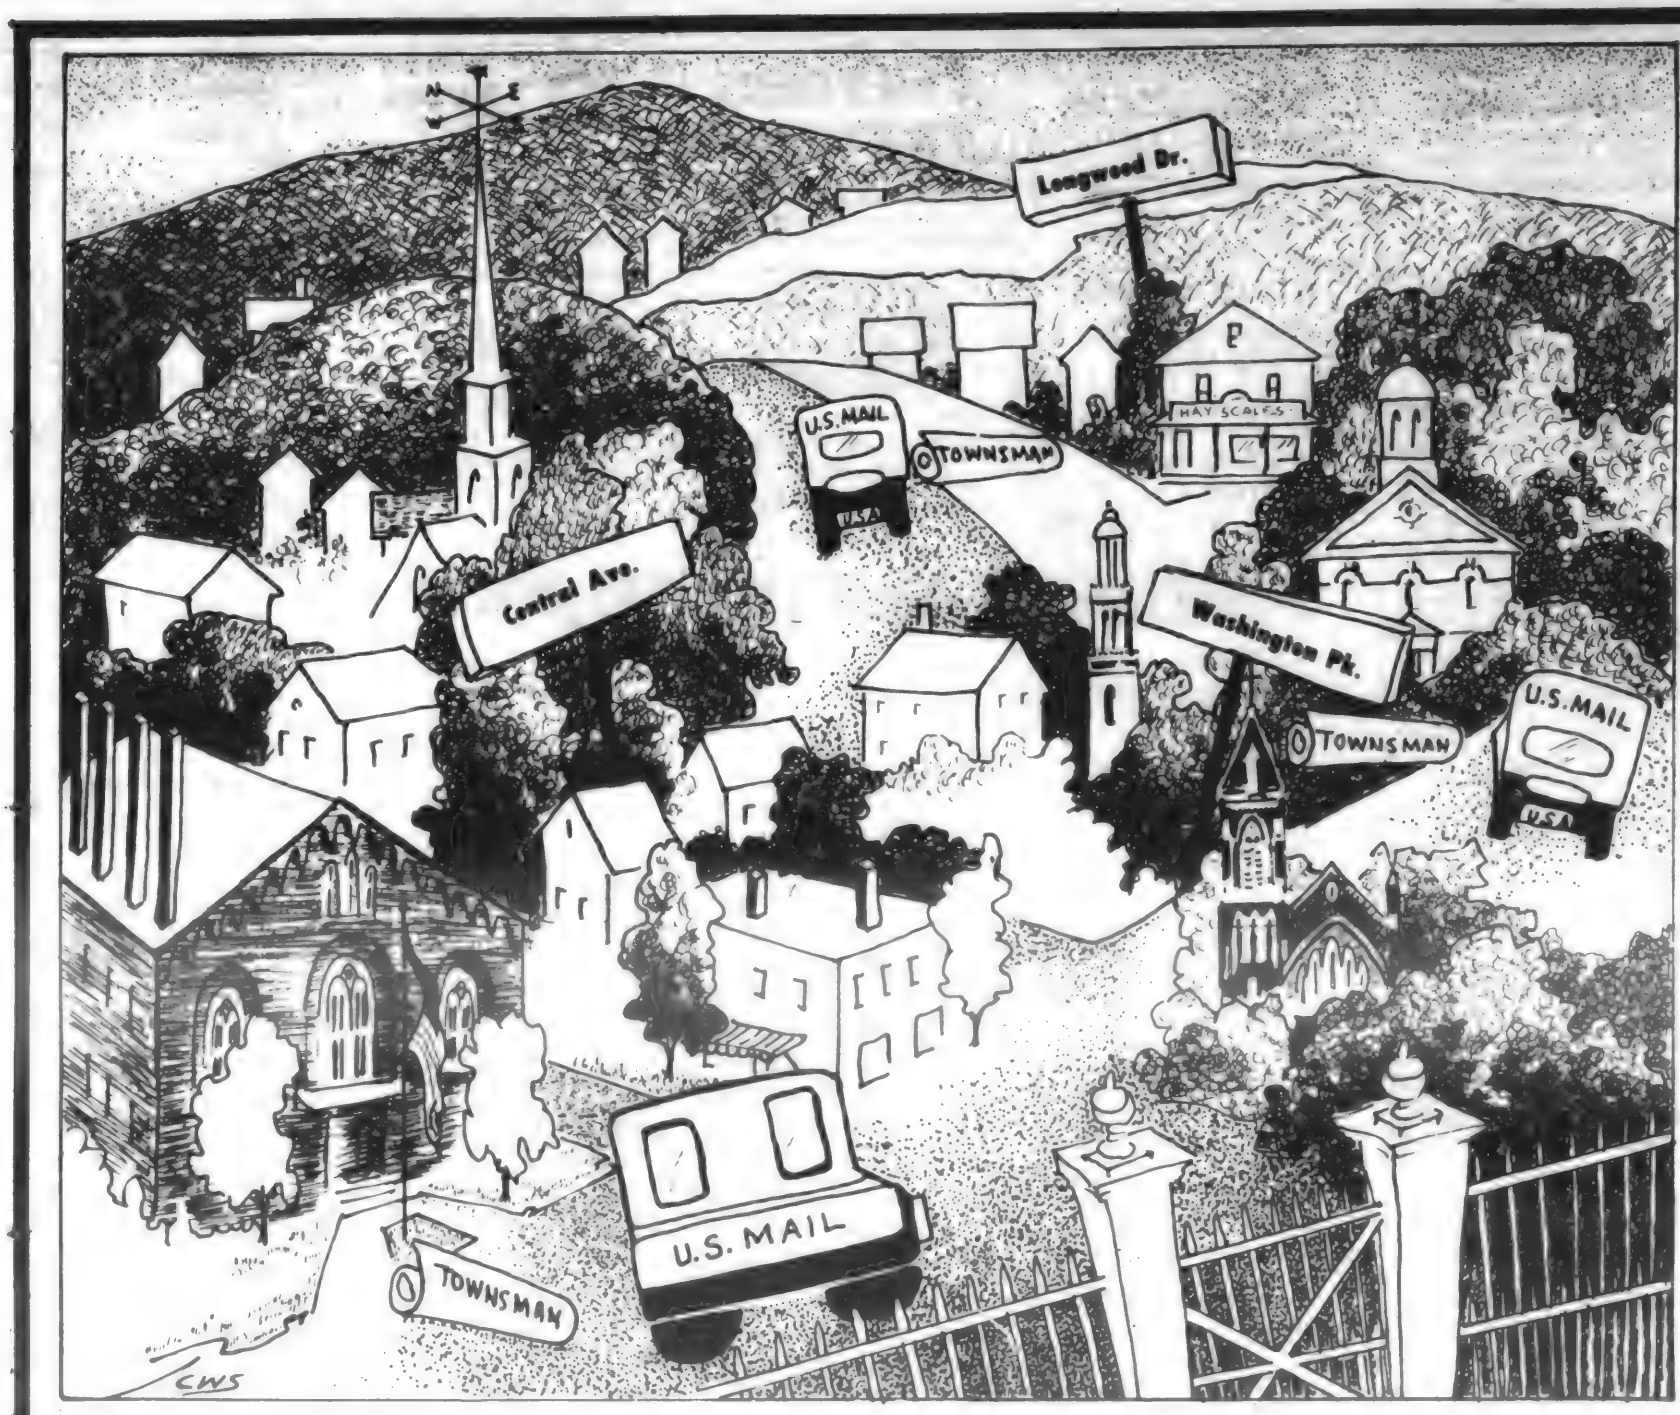

The home in the photo above is quite lovely, but the picture doesn't tell the whole story of Aluminum Age's involvement in the beautification process. Aluminum Age installed double 5 inch white vinyl siding after installing ½ inch rigid board insulation. The insulation renders the house more energy efficient, while the vinyl siding renders the house maintenance free, more beautiful, and more valuable. Aluminum Age covered the window and door casings with white aluminum trim, installed 5 pairs of blue shutters, and an Andersen perma-shield bow window. In addition, they built a 14x24 deck in the rear with seat rails. It all adds up to a beautiful, maintenance free home.

Don't let the name fool you, Aluminum Age offers complete home improvements including the following:

- vinyl or aluminum siding
- full trim coverage
- gutters
- roofing
- insulation
- storm windows and doors
- replacement windows
- shutters
- additions
- porch enclosures
- masonry
- bathrooms

Aluminum Age is a family run business with a 26 year reputation for quality. They have access to all brands of replacement windows and siding, and they provide expert installation.

All work performed by Aluminum Age is done with professionalism and particular attention to detail. This fact is attested to by the complimentary letters written by satisfied customers after the completion of a job. Call Aluminum Age at 664-5475, or stop in between 8:00 and 4:30 Monday through Friday.

Marty Neistadt displays Mannington & Congoleum floor samples

Creative Flooring, Inc.: Covering All The Possibilities

Creative Flooring, owned by Janice and Tony Querci, is aptly named, and when you visit their shop at 281 Main St. in North Reading you'll understand why. They've recently been joined by Marty Neistadt who, with 39 years experience in the flooring business, lends his expertise to Creative Flooring.

For carpeting they carry names such as Bigelow, Designer Gallery, Pineland and Philedelphia Carpets. They carry a range of carpeting from indoor/outdoor, to the plushest carpet for your home, and they can also handle your commercial needs. Since the carpet pad you choose is as important as the carpet, Creative Flooring carries a number of grades of heavy, fine quality padding. After you've installed your carpet, keep it clean with the Host "Dry" Carpet Cleaner, a cleaning system which can be rented from Creative Flooring.

Mannington, Armstrong, Congoleum and Tarkett are well known names in flooring, and you'll find all four at Creative Flooring. You can browse through the Mannington Design Center with an outstanding selection of "never wax" floors. Armstrong flooring ranges from the lower priced Castilian, moving up through Crowne Corlon to Designer Solarian to the top of the line Solarian Supreme.

Creative Flooring also carries hardwood floor collections by Bruce, Harris-Tarkett and Hartco. Hartco hardwood floors come in a variety of colors and patterns. It is prefinished flooring with solid oak moldings that is ready to walk on. Hartco Floors are perfect for either residential or commercial use.

Creative Flooring will come to your home for measuring, will provide you with estimates, and will install your flooring if desired. They have loads of carpet remnants and short rolls in stock.

Creative Flooring is open M, Tu, Wed, Fri & Sat 9-5:30; Thurs 9-8. Call Creative Flooring at 664-0006 and find out why they're the "Better Flooring People."

Calendar

past June 30 would run into Fourth of July weekend, bringing the school year well into July.

All committee members agreed that this would not be regular practice, but a calendar, said Poore, is "bound by the way a particular year falls." Robb agreed, adding that this particular situation occurs "once every five or six years when you have a late Labor Day."

Committee members proposed several ideas for future examination in such situations. One idea was to reduce February and Spring vacations to five-day weekends and another was to abolish both of those weeks and to institute a week-long March vacation in their place.

But, for this coming school year, with the late Labor Day and contractual obligations to be out on or before June 30, school will open for all students on Wednesday, September 2.

Car Care

Now's the time to put your car in shape for summer driving. Triple A's spring car care prescription recommends the following:

Check radiator hoses for cracks and loose connections. Replace any that are more than four years old. Check all engine drive belts for cracking and slipping. Replace any belts more than three years old or with more than 50,000 miles.

Drain and flush radiator.

Replace the thermostat and refill the cooling system with the manufacturer's recommended combination of anti-freeze and water.

Check battery charging systems and starting systems.

Drain engine oil; refill with manufacturer's recommended grade of oil. Replace oil, filter with every oil change. Check all fluids.

Check brake linings, brake fluid and hoses.

Inspect tires. Rotate, if necessary, and check air pressure and alignment.

Sring is a good time to wash the car and touch up scratches. Check lights, signals and windshield wipers for proper operation.

Completely lubricate chassis.

Replace air filter and related emissions filters.

HOW ADJUSTABLE RATE MORTGAGES WORK

Many prospective homebuyers avoid Adjustable Rate Mortgages ARM's– because they prefer certainty about what their housing expenses will be over the years they plan to own their home. Today's ARM's, however, are at least predictable enough to warrant serious consideration.

To make ARM's attractive, lenders offer lower initial interest rates than those for thirty year fixed loans. Then they ask the borrower to share some of the risks of future rate fluctuations in the marketplace. The initial rate applies for a specific time, usually one or three years. Then the bank can adjust it up or down. The new rate will be pegged to some percentage point above an average rate for a pool of one to three year Treasury notes. Most ARM's now have limits to how much they can go up or down at any one adjustment (usually one or two percentage points per period), as well as over the life of the loan (usually five percentage points). Your Realtor is a great source of information about the various financing options available, and he or she can show you how to comparison shop among lenders for the best loan on your new home.

MEDIAN SIZE

In 1984 the median size of new homes reached an all-time high of 1,605 square feet. The previous record for the median size of new homes sold was 1,600 square feet, a figure reached both in 1978 and 1979. The square footage decreased for several years after that. It began to rise again in 1982 when it was 1,520 square feet. While homes have gotten larger recently, the demand for more bedrooms has gone down. This reflects the fact that the average size of the American family has decreased. There are increasingly more home buyers consisting of single-person or single-parent households. Also, it is to be noted that in 1984 many buyers wanted homes with 2½ or more baths and one or more fireplaces.

HOW MANY DOLLARS DID YOU DEDUCT?

How many dollars did you deduct on last year's income tax return for mortgage interest? If the answer is NONE, read on?

Many career-minded people feel that a disproportionately large share of their income goes toward the payment of federal income taxes. Perhaps that's true for you also.

To simplify matters, let's say that you're in the 28% tax bracket. Do you realize that by owning your own home with payments of $1,000 per month, you might actually have an initial tax saving of up to $3,360 per year ($280 per month)? And with a $1,000 monthly payment, less a $288 monthly tax saving, you would have a net house payment of $720 per month! On top of that your house value should increase significantly each year.

If you feel you've been paying too much income tax and want to change that part of your life, call our office. With no obligation or cost to you whatsoever, we'll show you how to make that change - painlessly.

Goals, Objectives Discussed

By Karen L. Day

The School Committee Tuesday night, during a "work session", discussed the proposed goals and objectives for Superintendent Kenneth Seifert, focusing on five particular areas.

These, said Chairman Susan Poore, "are not cast in stone" and are "open for continuing discussion," but once agreed upon, they are expected to be completed in addition to regular, day-to-day responsiblities. Once both the Superintendent's goals and the committee's goals are established, said Poore, it will be possible for the two to work together on several overlapping areas.

Of top priority for Seifert is the development of a Curriculum Plan for the 1987-88 academic year. This development should include a profile of areas of emphasis and promote staff involvement.

A reflection of past committee discussion, the curriculum plan must include work toward the creation of school to school consistency and should also have a "manageable focus," instituting only those initiates that can feasibly be handled.

In addition, the curriculum plan must set up a system for evaluating pilot programs. Poore commented that questions to be answered included: How long is a pilot a pilot? How should pilots be evaluated? If positive, does it stay in one school or do you place it in others? If its not positive, how should it be disbanded? All these questions must be answered.

Second priority is Staff Communication and Morale. This goal includes the highlighting of staff efforts, the involvement of staff in the planning process, and improving the flow of information to staff members. Also, the Superintendent is expected to establish clear and limited priorities that the staff is made aware of.

A focusing on Andover High School will be another goal of the Superintendent in the coming year. This includes the examination and refinement of the academic program, the establishment of standards for classroom instruction and the improvement of student morale. This is in addition to becoming more of a visible presence at, not only the high school, but all schools.

With the passage of the State School Reform Law, requiring that teachers be evaluated every other year, and committee members' discomfort with the tenure process, the committee will require Seifert to develop a general process for evaluation and the role of students and other community members in that process. He is also expected to examine the tenure process.

Finally, the fifth Superintendent's goal relates to the Computer Plan. Seifert will be a key figure in the implementation of Year One of the computer plan and is to develop a system for the program's evaluation and then begin planning for implementation of Year Two.

In this area, Committeeman David Birnbach suggested that a consultant be hired to help implement the Computer Plan. This, he said, would prevent the schools from making expensive mistakes in the purchase of equipment and software. He added that there are several established firms that would take a list of goals for the program and know what is needed to reach those goals.

Donald Robb, another committee member, agreed, adding that he has been quite impressed with new interactive computer software that is more than "a computer workbook."

Ending the general discussion, committee members agreed to forward this set of goals to the Superintendent for examination and further discussion and refinement will proceed once he has the opportunity to respond.

New System

Bon Secours Hospital in Methuen has installed a new state-of-the-art central cardiac monitoring system in its emergency department. The sophisticated system features a central, ceiling suspended, multichannel oscilloscope at the main nursing station, three individual bedside monitors and a portable monitoring unit. Also featured with the new Spacelabs system is the capability for graphic print-outs to provide permanent records of a patient's heart rate and rhythm.

Pamela Shaw, R.N., clinical director for ambulatory services, says, "Having concise central monitoring of potential cardiac patients allows our nursing and medical staff immediate access to accurate, vital information concerning the patient's cardiac status. The immediate availability of information is critical under emergency conditions. Also, we now have the capability of monitoring several patients at once on one screen in one location."

Summer Playgrounds Offer Children Fun Time

The Department of Community Services registration for the Shee-Hee Playground, Shaw-Nee Playground and Ha-Kow-Wee Playground is continuing at the Town Office Building during regular office hours.

The Shee-Hee Playground, for children ages 3 and 4, is held at Shawsheen School from 9 a.m. to 12 noon. Parents may register their children for a partial week (Tuesday and Thursday) or (Monday, Wednesday and Friday) or for a full week. Programs include games, crafts, singing, storytelling and, most importantly, having the chance to meet new friends.

The Shaw-Nee Playground, for children ages 5 and 6, is also held at Shawsheen School from 9 a.m. to 12 noon, Monday through Friday. This comprehensive program offers the opportunity to meet and play with children the same age while participating in arts and crafts, nature walks, games, storytelling and special events. It gives the children who have attended kindergarten some stability for the summer season while introducing the school to the younger children who will attend kindergarten in the fall.

The Ha-Kow-Wee Playground, for children in grades K-6 completed, is held at Recreation Park from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m., Monday through Friday. Extended hours are available from 8 a.m. to 9 a.m. and from 4 p.m. to 5:30 p.m. for an additional fee. The children participate in a variety of traditional camp activities plus canoeing, hiking, swimming, tennis and weekly field trips. The fee includes transportation to all in-town playground special events. Children should bring their lunch and snack.

All registrations are in two-week session which begin Monday, June 29. Children may register for one two-week session or a combination of sessions up to eight weeks. Four and eight-week discounted rates apply only when registering for a full four or eight weeks . All programs have limited spaces. Registration for the Drop-In Playgrounds at Bancroft, Sanborn, South and West Elementary schools will begin in mid-June. The Drop-In Playgrounds are programs for children in grades K-8 completed and are held Monday through Friday from 8:30 a.m. to 1 p.m. Weekly schedules include a variety of sports, games, special activities, field trips and arts and crafts.

Leisuretime Activities Offered

The Department of Community Services Summer Program booklet, listing all the activities the department will be sponsoring for children and adults this summer, will be mailed during the first week of June. Registration for many programs will be held Wednesday, June 17, at the Doherty Junior High School auditorium from 7 p.m. to 8 p.m. Registration for the Shee-Hee (ages 3 and 4), Shaw-Nee (ages 5 and 6) and Ha-Kow-Wee (grades K-6) playgrounds is continuing at the Town Hall office.

Elementary schoolaged children can choose Bancroft, Sanborn, South or West Elementary playgrounds and craft classes, computer, gymnastics, cheerleading, theatre and tennis lessons. Teens can travel to Hampton Beach for a day. Adults can choose from a multitude of programs, including typing, computer, C.P.R., Jazzerobics, tennis lessons, ballroom dancing and craft workshops.

Information is also included on Pomps Pond swim lessons, the movie and concert series in Central Park and special events for everyone.

Get Back To Nature On An RV Vacation

RVs are the answer for people who wish to combine the adventure of the great outdoors with the comforts of home. The canvas-sided folding camping trailer in particular puts RV campers "in touch" with nature. Its $4,000 average retail price makes it popular among first-time buyers.

More than 175 million Americans participate in some form of outdoor recreation, according to a new study commissioned by the President's Commission on Americans Outdoors (PCAO).

While not everyone can backpack or camp in a tent due to age or physical restrictions, anyone can enjoy outdoor living from a recreation vehicle (RV). That's why RVs are the ideal choice for people who wish to combine the adventure of the great outdoors with the comforts and conveniences of home.

University of Michigan researchers found that one in 10 Americans now owns an RV and an additional 12 million Americans have said they'd like to buy or rent one in the near future.

During the day, RVers can participate in a full range of popular outdoor recreational activities including boating, swimming, bicycling, fishing, hiking, nature studying and sightseeing. Or, they can merely experience the natural beauty and serenity of the great outdoors from a hammock or lounge chair. At night, RVers can enjoy the comfortable surroundings of their RVs for a shower, a "home-cooked" meal and a good night's sleep.

RVs come in five basic types to suit different travel needs, tastes and pocketbooks. Retail prices start from an average of $4,000 for a folding camping trailer to an average of $49,000 for a luxurious Type A motorhome. In between, there a variety of towable trailers, truck campers and more modest motorhomes.

Outdoor enthusiasts who wish to experience RVing but are not ready to purchase a vehicle should consider renting an RV for their next outing. Rental outlets are located throughout the country. Many offer services including tour packages, airport transportation, instructions and camping equipment. To find an RV rental outlet near you, look in the Yellow Pages under "Recreation Vehicles."

Public Still Gathers At Central Park

Historically speaking, people have gathered on the green of Central Park for many years and for many different reasons. In recent years families have gathered each Monday and Wednesday evening during the summer months for the Department of Community Services Family Movie Program and Summer Concert Series. The programs, which are offered free, encourage a friendly exchange between neighbors.

The movie program has been a wonderful setting for young families to meet one another. Children playing together, parents exchanging stories, parenting tips and the like are common while passing out the bug spray, homemade popcorn and blankets. This year's schedule includes "Black Cauldron," "101 Dalmatians," "The Carebear Movie," "Sleeping Beauty" and more. The program will begin Monday, June 29.

The concert series offers something for everyone; from bluegrass to big band era, jazz to concert orchestra and rock. Families and friends gather after work for a picnic supper, teens play frisbee while children climb the memorial cannon at the corner of Chestnut and Bartlet Streets.

People set up lawn chairs on the park and front porches fill. The carefully tended trees serve as a welcome host from the occasional fair weather clouds that pass overhead. The newly renovated bandstand makes the New England scene picture-perfect. The concert series begins July 1.

Well supported over the years, attendance has remained constant with good to excellent reviews being reported to the Department of Community Services. If you haven't gotten to Central Park in the past, plan a visit this summer and enjoy the wide selection of wholesome family entertainment.

Tips Offered For Camp Stove Selection

Choosing a stove for camping or backyard cooking can sometimes be difficult. What type of stove and fuel should you use and what accessories do you need?

Fuel type is pretty much a matter of preference. Liquid gas stoves are inexpensive to operate, averaging about 35 cents per hour and they're powerful—up to 25,000 BTUs.

The liquid gas (Coleman Fuel) is available nearly everywhere and in a bind you can probably borrow a cupful from your camp neighbor to finish cooking breakfast. The Coleman Fuel stoves work well in cold weather and in high altitudes. Performance is unaffected in temperatures as low as minus 20 or at altitudes up to 10,000 feet. Stoves are available in one, two or three-burner configurations.

To operate the stove:

1. Fill tank with fuel and attach it to the stove.
2. Pressurize the tank using the finger pump.
3. Light the stove and, after the initial warm-up period, adjust the flame.
4. Repressurize as needed, using the finger pump.

Propane stoves require no pumping, as the fuel comes in pressurized cylinders. The most common size for camping is 16.4 ounces, which is enough fuel to operate the stove for about two and one-half hours at an average cost of about $1.20 per hour. A typical weekend camping trip will require two or three cylinders.

For heavy users, bulk LP system using a large 6 to 20-pound refillable cylinder might be best. This is smaller, lighter and still large enough for several days of camping or backyard cooking. Conversion to bulk will also afford the user substantial savings in fuel costs, as a refill will cost only $5 to $7.

Other features found on some propane stoves include removable stove tips for easy clean-up, slim-line design and matchless electronic ignition.

Whatever your choice of fuels, you may want to consider these accessories to make outdoor cooking easier, more enjoyable and more convenient:

- Teflon coated griddle: This fits on all Coleman two and three-burner stoves. This is a "must" for breakfast.
- High stand: This folding aluminum stand positions the stove at a proper working height. It's great when a picnic table is not available.
- Oven: The oven sits on the campstove. It has two shelves and a temperature gauge and is wonderful for making biscuits, breads and other foods normally confined to preparation at home.
- Cookware: A good quality porcelain on a steel cookware set offers even heat distribution, easy cleanup and removable handles for space saving storage.

Boaters can save fuel by operating at the manufacturer's recommended cruising speed, rather than wide open throttle.

Boating Fuel Saving Tips Outlined

Higher outboard performance at lower cost is as easy as following a few common sense fuel-conservation habits while boating.

"Make certain your propeller is the correct size for your boat and motor combination," says Tom Ireland, field and customer service manager for Outboard Marine Corporation (OMC). "The wrong propeller can rob five to 10 miles per hour from your top-end speed. It also will take longer to get the outboard up on plane, giving you even poorer fuel efficiency."

Many boaters have switched to stainless steel propellers like the SST® and OMC Raker® manufactured by OMC Parts and Accessories. Stainless steel props can improve top speed by as much as three miles per hour overmost aluminum props and they also offer more durability.

A properly tuned outboard motor can improve fuel efficiency, according to Ireland.

"Tuning today's outboard is easy," he says. "All it takes is a good cleaning and gapping of the spark plugs. Your owner's manual should provide easy-to-follow engine maintenance instructions."

Ireland offers other tips for saving fuel, including running your boat at the recommended cruising speed, balancing passenger and gear weight in the boat and keeping the boat bottom clean to prevent drag. He also says today's engines no longer need warm-up time and to avoid a dead idle because it burns valuable fuel. Ireland adds that fuel can be left in a boat stored for a long period of time if a fuel conditioner, such as OMC 2+4® , is added prior to storage.

Windsurfing is much easier than it looks, which is why it's one of the fastest growing water sports.

Windsurfing Is Easy To Learn

Windsurfing, which is considered by many to be the purest form of sailing, is one of the fastest growing water sports.

It is attracting more and more people because basic skills can be learned easily and advancement is rapid. Size and strength are not issues. Nearly anyone who is in reasonably good physical condition can do well.

"Most people become proficient at windsurfing with only six to eight hours of instruction," says Paul Julien of O'Brien International.

He recommends that beginners complete a course at a certified windsurfing school. Most courses begin with a dry land simulator so that students can get a feel for the board and learn how to get the mast and sail upright after a spill. Basic sailing principles also are taught. Sailing on a tethered board is followed by sailing with instructors and followng the leader before freesailing.

"Often, by the end of the first full season a person is proficient enough and confident enough to sail in 16 to 18-mph winds," Julien says. "And one of the great things about windsurfing is that it's open-ended. You can always get better."

Most windsurfing is pleasure cruising. Individuals simply take their boards for a spin in the breeze on a lake, bay or big river. It's thrilling and exciting. As windsurfers say, "You literally hold the wind in your hands."

Yet, windsurifing is a safe spot. It has an excellent safety record and serious injuries are almost unheard of. Falls are usually gentle and at low speeds.

For those with a competitive spirit, more and more races and regattas for windsurfers are being held. Surf-jumping in the ocean and wave-jumping on windy canyon lakes also are gaining popularity.
